

Note that there is a ledge that may provide some support to offset the thinner base section around the OAG tube.

